June/July 2024 Newsletter

Dear Woodworkers,

I hope this newsletter finds you all well and enjoying the summer months. With the cicadas finally behind us, it's a perfect time to immerse ourselves in our woodworking projects without their constant hum in the background.

I'm excited to announce that this Monday, we have a fantastic opportunity to tour Cardwell's Hardwoods. They have graciously agreed to host us and will be providing food and beverages, so let's make sure to give them a big thank you for their generosity. It's not every day that we get to see behind the scenes of such an integral part of our craft.

As the days get longer and the weather warmer, it's the perfect season to take on new woodworking projects or perhaps finish up those that have been lingering. Whether you're working on something small or a large-scale piece, remember that each cut and join is a step towards mastering our beloved craft.

Please note that there will be no newsletter or meeting in July. We hope you all enjoy a wonderful summer break and return in August with plenty of stories and projects to share.

Let's continue to support each other, share our knowledge, and, most importantly, enjoy the process. I look forward to seeing many of you at the tour and hearing about your latest projects. Happy woodworking!

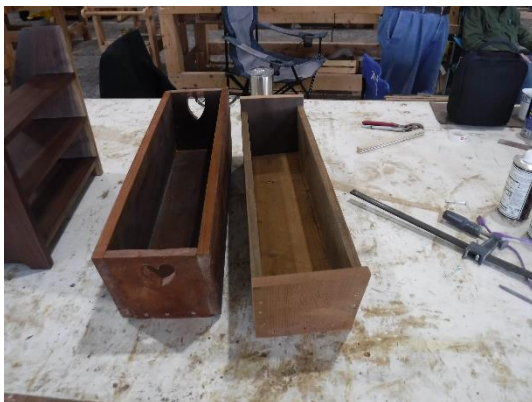

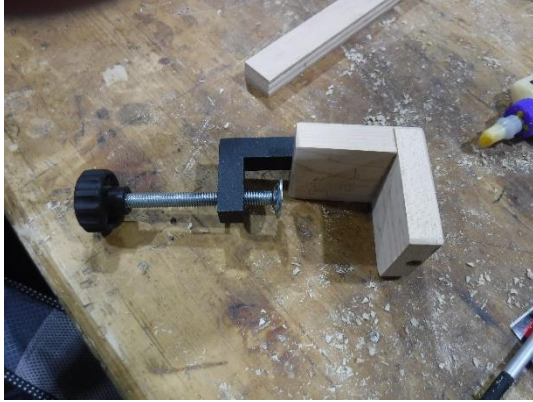

John Loyd
President, Missouri Woodworkers Association
